INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Members of CommunityWise Resource Centre:

Qualified Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of CommunityWise Resource Centre (the Centre), which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2019, and the statement of operations, statement of changes in net assets and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion section of our report, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Centre as at December 31, 2019, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-Profit Organizations (ASNPOs).

Basis for Qualified Opinion

In common with many not-for-profit organizations, the Centre derives revenue from fundraising activities, the completeness of which is not susceptible to satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, verification of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the Centre. Therefore, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by alternative means concerning such donations for the year ended December 31, 2019. Since donations enter into the determination of the financial performance and cash flows, we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to the profit for the year reported in the statement of operations and the net cash flows from operating activities reported in the statement of cash flows.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Centre in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with those requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our qualified audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with ASNPOs, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Centre's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters relating to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Centre or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Centre's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Centre's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Centre's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Centre to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 2019

1. Incorporation

CommunityWise Resource Centre (the "Centre") is a not-for-profit organization incorporated under the Societies Act of Alberta on May 22, 1979. Its mission is to be a non-profit hub by providing inclusive, affordable, and equitable space at nominal cost and offering community development programs such as addictions supports and advocacy, hunger alleviation, disability services, mental health supports, ethnocultural community organizing, LGBTQ2+ peer support, indigenous community service, and community arts to support and strengthen diverse grassroots and non-profit members.

The Centre is a registered charitable organization as defined in paragraph 149.1 of the Income Tax Act and as such is exempt from income taxes.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations and include the following significant accounting policies:

(a) Revenue recognition

The Centre follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Unrestricted revenues include rental income, membership fees, interest income and unrestricted donations and fundraising. The unrestricted revenues are recognized in revenue as they are earned.

(b) Measurement uncertainty

The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting principles for not for profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Estimates including the estimated useful life of capital assets are periodically reviewed and any adjustments necessary are reported in earnings in the period in which they become known. Therefore, actual results could differ from and affect the results reported in these financial statements.

(d) Deferred capital contributions

Contributions provided or allocated for the purposes of acquiring property and equipment are recognized as revenues on the same basis as the related property and equipment is amortized.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

(e) Capital assets

All property, plant and equipment purchased, are recorded at cost. These assets are depreciated over their estimated useful life. Amortization is charged on an annual basis using the declining balance method over their estimated useful life as follows:

Office equipment	20%
Leasehold improvements	20%
Furniture and fixtures	30%

The Centre regularly reviews its capital assets for obsolescence.
