I have a background in Science, with a degree in Ecology. My particular scientific areas of knowledge are in biology, entomology and conservation. My interests include anthropology, growing native plants, ink and watercolour art, reuse and upcycling. I enjoy stories, reading, writing, hiking, camping, and identifying flora and fauna. I am passionate about social justice, supporting local, climate justice and conservation. I worked at Riva's Eco Store for five years, worked on three different projects in biological field work, I helped found a worker cooperative restaurant and have worked at Arusha for approximately five years now.
